

The plans illustrate the current, as well as the next year form of the southwest airport, which is going to be developed.

Overall, the airport will undergo dramatic developments with establishing a number of new facilities, erecting a new runway, and an expansion in the whole airport.

With regard to facilities, the cafe in the departures area will be moved to the southwest side. Meanwhile, the check-in area will be replaced to the east side, making way for a new bag drop. In the arrivals area, a new ATM, cafe, and car hire area are going to be set up in the west side. Furthermore, a number of shops are going to be located to the north of the departures area, behind the security and passport control. Finally, a modern sky train will be laid down in place of the walkway.

As of the expansions, the airport will be able to host more than twice as many planes as it used to be able to host with 18 places in the next year. It is also worth noting that both departures and arrivals entrances are going to have two doors, while there used to be one for each area.
